

Why Should THE London afternoon Star asked editorially: "Why should the King be denied the common happiness of mankind? We see no inseparable reason. The cabinet may tender him advice in one direction, but there is more than one way in which the interests of the State and the King can be reconciled."

COL. Josiah Wedgwood, Independent M.P., told the British Press Association: "The King is beloved. The thing we have got to avoid more than anything else is abdication. Any change will tear this country in two. If a general election comes, the outcome will be on the side of the King."

Two Blood Transfusions Fail Rescue Mrs. Fred Hildebrandt

DRUMHELLER, Dec. 3.—After two blood transfusions Mrs. Fred Hildebrandt lapsed into a coma, dying at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

DRUMHELLER, Dec. 3.—While surgeons fought a losing battle in a last desperate effort to save the life of Mrs. Fred Hildebrandt, shot nine times Wednesday morning by her son-in-law, Arlen Gehring, members of the Hildebrandt family told the Bulletin's representative details of an early morning pitched battle fought between the Hildebrandt house and the barn, about 100 feet away, with flames from the chicken-house, set alight by Gehring, casting grisly shadows over the central figures.

Mrs. Gehring, a pretty 21-year-old bride of two months, was reluctant to speak of the many indignities and slights she had suffered at the hands of her husband in their home at Schuler, but admitted that she had been compelled to kneel on spiked boards, and had LONDON, Dec. 3.—Prime Minister Baldwin declined to lift the veil over the issue between the King and the cabinet when he was questioned in the House of Commons this afternoon. He said he considered it "inexpedient" that he should be questioned at the present time.

When question time ended, Attlee asked the prime minister, who had returned for a statement regarding any constitutional difficulties which have arisen.

The prime minister replied: "I have no statement to make today. While there does not at present exist any constitutional difficulty, the situation is of such a nature as to make it inexpedient that I should be questioned about it at this stage."

Winston Churchill asked whether the premier would ensure that no irrevocable step would be taken before a statement was made in the House.

NOTHING TO ADD

Baldwin replied: "I have nothing to add to the statement which I have made at the present moment."

The prime minister said he had no idea of the reason for it. Attlee pursued the question with a supplementary interrogation.

EXPLORER MAY BUY RANCH OF KING EDWARD

LONDON, Dec. 3.—It was learned authoritatively today that King Edward is negotiating the sale of his Buckingham Palace yesterday and over the King.

CALGARY, Dec. 3.—Professor W. L. Carlyle, manager of the King's E.P. ranch, is still at the International Livestock show in Chicago, and no confirmation of any deal can be obtained here. Mrs. Carlyle, who is at the ranch, knows nothing of the matter.

It is known that Lincoln Elworth has been negotiating for an Alberta ranch for some time and that the property of Dick Brown of Seven U was being considered. The ranch is situated near the town of Seven U, which is known old time ranch and cattle country, and some of them believe that either Elworth or H. Hollick-Kenyon, his partner, is the man who is negotiating the purchase of the ranch.

The construction of this highway has been urged by delegations from the area concerned for many years and will prove a means by which the mining towns mentioned can have access to the rest of the world by means other than rail-road or primitive road.

The proposed section of highway is 40 miles long and will run from Calgary to Rickerdike, near Edmonton.

The work will include some rock work and clearing of jackpine and other trees.

Preliminary survey work already has been done on the route.

It is also disclosed that work on Peace River communication will be started in the near future. The Whittier-Sturgeon section, with camp established at the crossing of the Athabasca river, Grubbs will be done on this project. Also snow will be cleared and roads will be laid, which will be impossible in the spring.

Alberta Looks To Grouard

If there ever was a time when the people of Alberta needed the safeguard of an active and capable group of opposition members in the provincial legislature, that time is now.

The present Government came into power fifteen months ago, with the support of 56 hand-picked members in a legislature of 63. It has not carried into effect one of the promises that were made to the electors, on the strength of which the 56 were elected.

That is the mildest of the offences of which it stands condemned by its record. Taxation was to be reduced; it has been increased twenty per cent. Civil liberty was to be buttressed and fortified by civil liberty; regulation is the order of the day. The credit of the province was to be conserved; it has been destroyed. The unemployed were to be set at work by mid-summer building highways; the unemployment figures are higher than they were a year ago.

The electors of Grouard have an opportunity on Monday to register their protest against this mismanagement of their affairs, and to strengthen the Opposition group to which the public must look for protection against further amateur adventures in the realm of folly. In Mr. Tremblay they have a candidate excellently qualified to represent them in the legislature, and equally fitted to champion the interests of the province as a whole, with particular ability to speak for the farming population and their needs.

The question of the promised dividends does not enter into the matter. The Government majority, with Mr. Tremblay elected, will be as large as it ever was—barring two supporters who have quit it in disgust or alarm. If the Government has any plans for paying dividends, it will have ample support to put those plans through the legislature and into effect. A vote for Tremblay is therefore not a vote against dividends.

The people of the province have a quite unusual interest in this election. They need Mr. Tremblay in the seat of Mr. Grouard, as an able, balanced and fair critic of the government. His election will be hailed with approval from end to end of the province.

At nightfall there were 38 known dead, with Red Cross officials unable to total the exact number of mangled bodies lying in debilitated streets and wrecked houses.

The insurgents, angered by the deaths the day before after their failure to capture Madrid in four weeks' time, unleashed the bloodiest attack and bombardment in the city's history.

At least 70 high-explosive bombs were dumped in the city by the rebels. The Associated Press reported that the death toll rose to 38, and that 100 were injured in the northern suburbs. The Associated Press also reported that a motorcycle dispatch rider carried a bundle of papers from Buckingham Palace to Fort Belvedere.

While speculation was in full cry as to the purpose of yesterday's conference between the King and Prime Minister the Daily Mirror carried a headline which read: "The King wants to marry Mrs. Simpson; Cabinet advises 'No'."

The Associated Press reported that the King had been informed of his personal staff to his country residence this morning and later a motorcycle dispatch rider carried a bundle of papers from Buckingham Palace to Fort Belvedere.

While the cabinet was said to be holding itself in readiness to convene for further discussion of the situation, the Associated Press said "highly reliable source" asserted that the King intended to see his guns, dealing with each critical situation as it arose.

The Evening News gave over the entire front page of its early editions to discussing the situation and carried photographs of the King and Mrs. Simpson.

Following his audience of the King last night, Mr. Baldwin conferred with the cabinet. The Associated Press reported that the cabinet was in session for several hours, and that the King was expected to see his guns, dealing with each critical situation as it arose.

ONTARIO POLITICS BOIL WHEN ROWE MEETS HEPBURN

MADOC, Ont., Dec. 3.—Political excitement attending the Hastings East provincial by-election campaign reached a roaring crescendo that drowned out the sound of Premier Mitchell Hepburn's voice and left incomplete a platform debate between the Premier and Conservative Leader Earl Rowe.

Gathered to witness nomination formalities of the December 9 by-election, a crowd estimated at 1,000 jammed the armchairs for the rare debate of party leaders, then cheered and booed alternately as Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Rowe shouted at times to explain the issues.

HECTIC DAY
It was a hectic afternoon when Returning Officer Floyd Ashley resumed the nomination candidates to be Dr. Harold A. Rowe of Deseronto, Liberal, and Dr. Harold E. Welsh of Berlin, Conservative. The end came when Premier Hepburn gave up attempting to elicit a 15-minute reply to the speech of the Conservative leader.

Mr. Rowe was backed by financiers who exploited more than any other "else" Premier Hepburn said in his attack on the Conservative party's done tax evasion by wealthy people.

He named Brit. Gen. D. H. Hogarth and Sir Herbert Holt as "the two who have been the mainstays of the Conservative party in Ontario."

Interrupted by a section of the crowd at this point, the premier said: "Oh, you people, who have come to scorn, wait a minute and you'll see what cackles these men have made of you."

Mr. Rowe said he was as big as interests are concerned, let me say I do not know Sir Herbert Holt. How would I be expected to know him as well as Mr. King or Mr. Hogg? I am a party man, I took $750,000 from Beauharnois."

REPUUDIATE ACTS
The premier detailed legislation under which Roman Catholic separate schools were given a greater share of corporation taxes. Mr. Rowe attacked it. He said he would repudiate the act when his party obtained power.

Mr. Hepburn made only brief reference to his government's announced campaign to "clean up" succession duties owing the province from large estates.

"I want to say one of the estates we opened up was that of a former superior court judge of Canada," he said. "This judge had defrauded the federal income tax department of $887,000, and of which was collected, and we collected $130,000."

SUCCESSOR DUTIES
Mr. Rowe told the crowd something about collection of succession duties, too. From an estate closed by the Drury government, a former Conservative administration, he collected the amount obtained from any one estate by the Hepburn government, he said.

"Name the estate," someone in the audience shouted.

"The John Eaton estate," replied Mr. Rowe.

Mr. Rowe denied there had been any secret agreements to purchase power from Quebec companies. The purchases were made on the recommendation of competent engineers, he said.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Dec. 3.—Spurred by love for her only surviving son, a 65-year-old mother of Ferguson highway south of here today hitchhiked toward Toronto.

JURY CLEARS SKERRATT IN DEATH OF BOY

Fatal Mishap to Bobbie Moore
Accident Called
In Verdict

Returning a verdict of accidental death, a coroner's jury assigned the driver of blame at the inquest into the death of Bobbie Moore, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Moore, 9785 79 avenue, who died in the University hospital Thursday, November 26, of injuries received when struck by a car driven by Richard Skerratt, Jr., at 78 avenue and 90 street, three hours previous to his death.

As a rider the jury recommended that children be forbidden from playing on the street. Provincial Coroner Dr. E. A. Braithwaite presided at the inquest which was held in the courtroom of the city police station Tuesday afternoon.

Members of the jury were: James Smith, Charles Fisher, John J. Barr, Frank Brennan, Will Werner and H. Bayley.

FACES CHARGE
A charge of manslaughter was laid against Skerratt following the accident. He will appear in police court Friday, December 4 in answer to the charge.

Dr. John Macgregor, pathologist at the University of Alberta, who conducted a post mortem testified that the injured youngster died of a fracture of the base of the skull and multiple internal injuries.

GIVEN LIFT
Richard Skerratt, father of the driver, testified that he was sitting in the rear seat of the vehicle, but saw the boy run into the path of the car.

"He was no more than five feet in front of the left hand fender when I first noticed him," said the witness.

"He was, I believe, struck by the right headlight about three feet from the curb where the boy started from into the path of the car. Immediately following the accident I assisted my son take the injured boy into a store near."

Charles Martin, owner of the car, and Mrs. Martin, who were in the back seat with Skerratt, senior, and May Skerratt, sister of the driver, corroborated the father's story.

RUN BEHIND
Ronald Duke II, of 9648 30 Ave., playmate of Bobbie, said: "Bobbie told me he was going to run behind passing cars so I informed him not to, but he paid no attention to me and said he would. He then ran out and was struck by the car."

Man Goes For Cod, Brings Back Shark

HALIFAX, Dec. 3.—Next time Alex Simpson wants to catch a fish for lunch he'll go prepared. Alex went out before dinner to catch a codfish, and came about eight fish of line.

Shortly he felt a vicious tug on his small set book and found a shark had snapped the bait. Simpson battled the 102-pound fish for three hours before landing it. It measured six feet, two inches with a girth of almost four feet.

Returning a verdict of accidental death, a coroner's jury assigned the driver of blame at the inquest into the death of Bobbie Moore, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Moore, 9785 79 avenue, who died in the University hospital Thursday, November 26, of injuries received when struck by a car driven by Richard Skerratt, Jr., at 78 avenue and 90 street, three hours previous to his death.

As a rider the jury recommended that children be forbidden from playing on the street. Provincial Coroner Dr. E. A. Braithwaite presided at the inquest which was held in the courtroom of the city police station Tuesday afternoon.

Members of the jury were: James Smith, Charles Fisher, John J. Barr, Frank Brennan, Will Werner and H. Bayley.

FACES CHARGE
A charge of manslaughter was laid against Skerratt following the accident. He will appear in police court Friday, December 4 in answer to the charge.

Dr. John Macgregor, pathologist at the University of Alberta, who conducted a post mortem testified that the injured youngster died of a fracture of the base of the skull and multiple internal injuries.

GIVEN LIFT
Through drifting snow and ice freezing temperatures, Mrs. Storms walked to Sudbury from her home at North Bay, then set out late Tuesday on foot down the highway.

She carries only a small bag, containing her belongings. At her side is her police dog.

SEEKS SHELTER
Overcome by weather, cold, and Mrs. Storms was forced to seek shelter at a Lakeshore home three miles south of here last night.

She was taken in, fed and provided with a bed. Today she continued on her way, hoping a motorist would help her hasten to her son's side.

Man Goes For Cod, Brings Back Shark

HALIFAX, Dec. 3.—Next time Alex Simpson wants to catch a fish for lunch he'll go prepared. Alex went out before dinner to catch a codfish, and came about eight fish of line.

THE QUEST RENEWED

Beside the development of the mineral areas
in the north, the greatest activity in western Canada—perhaps in all Canada—aimed at opening up new sources of wealth, is the activity in the field of oil.

Hon. C. C. Ross, Minister of lands, gave out information the other day that must be greatly encouraging to everyone who is interested in the expansion of western Canada.

This means in the way of new opportunity for investment and employment.

The statement shows that the drills are working in a dozen places, and that the oil industry, that the prospect of finding the much sought great reservoir of "crude" is thought to be better than ever, and that prospecting permits have been issued for territory strung all the way from the international boundary to the latitude of Peace River.

The quest for oil has been renewed with all the fervor of ten years ago. And let it be hoped, with more of the energy going into operations in the field and less into operations
in the stock markets.

THEY WANT TO KNOW

Even the Vancouver Province, of steady-going Conservative traditions, wants to know if "Australia is a better place to live in than at the same time get money to do things," while
"In Canada the best we can expect from any Government is that it shall not be increased,
and when any plan is made for expenditure on this scheme or that for the almost inevitable
"We haven't the money!"

Constituting details of the main reason is that when the depression settled down the Government of Australia courageously took control of the money supply and the public in terms of the public "bank." Other things were accomplished, but without this they could not have brought restoration so quickly to the point where taxation is not a burden, but a source of stored, pensions increased, and the qualifying age for old age pensions set at 60 for men and 60
for women.

As the Province suggests, if our statements do not know how these things became possible.
"They might be well advised to make an attempt to keep on asking, with growing insistence, why these things "cannot" be done in Canada.

THE LEAGUE AND DICTATORS

A curious argument, seeking to destroy the League of Nations by demonstrating its impotence, has cropped up at Geneva. It has been made by the ablest of the dictators, and it is sufficient to paralyze the efficiency of collective security and strip its decrees of any binding sanction. By a strange abuse of logic, the advocates of this new thesis suggest that the League should curtail its operations since the war-makers lie beyond its jurisdiction.

What is the historic position of the League with respect to dictators? At its inception no provision was made for the representation of "tranny" at the bar of world opinion. President Wilson, Generalissimo, and the other dictators, the three master spirits of the peace declatation—constantly spoke of the new security as "a league of free peoples." The American leader actually refused to arrange the armistice with Germany until he had decisively overthrown the German dynasty.

Not until 1924 did Germany obtain a seat
at Geneva, and Russia became a member only after Hitler, in a spasm of illegitimate disgust
at the failure of the disarmament conference, withdrew his delegation from the League. If dictators have rejected the covenant, they have merely fulfilled in unbecoming obedience to the will of history, the original intention of the framers of that document.

The cause of the League's failure consists not in the absence of dictators from Geneva,
but in the absence of dictators from Geneva,
but in the absence of dictators from Geneva,
but in the absence of dictators from Geneva,

EMPLOYMENT—AND UNEMPLOYMENT

Firms reporting to the Bureau of Statistics are now employing more people than at any time since 1920. The figure went up 8,600 during the month of October. The index of employment in these concerns stands at 111, the level for 1926 being taken as 100.

There were last month 1,200,000 in a million
Canadians supported by relief and relief work.
That the number has dropped much in the interval is unlikely. Conditions in Alberta and

The Sleep Cure

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

"To cure" means "to restore to normal," and from this point of view, the word cure may be applied to sleep, for sound, restful sleep is one of the greatest of all restoratives.

Inasmuch as the average person sleeps about 8 hours out of the 24, he thus spends one third of his life in bed. From the point of view of the length of time devoted to it, sleep
holds just as important a place in life as work. It therefore becomes advisable to make sure that one has the best possible sleeping conditions,
and that the greatest amount of good from the third of his life which must be spent in this way. I am therefore going to outline some rules to follow in obtaining good refreshing sleep.

The first rule is to sleep in a double bed, if possible. This size bed provides sufficient space for moving around during the night, and is preferred to sleep alone when two people attempt to sleep in the same bed, the movements of the one are bound to disturb the other and slumber is not as restful as if they slept separately.

When there is lack of room for a double bed,
then this bed may be used. Experiments have demonstrated that the best height is 30 inches in width. Many of the beds coming in the narrow sizes are either 30 or 36 inches wide and are too narrow. The top of the bed should be narrow bed is that it induces a fear of falling off,
which in turn brings about muscular tension.

The spring on the bed should be adapted to the weight of the sleeper, and a coil spring should be given preference. This type of spring costs more than the link type, but on the other hand, it retains its shape longer, thus providing better sleep over a long period of time. The sleeper of a very slender build may find that the soft type of spring is the best; the average person, however, will find the coil spring more heavy-weight person usually finds that the hard type of spring provides the best rest. The mattress should be carefully selected and should not be too soft. You will find that a medium-weight mattress an excellent investment as it will provide adequate rest and will not soon become faded. The bed should be made up in a neat and more satisfactory than when one of the inexpensive mattresses is used.

For a good night's rest the bed must be properly made. The bottom sheet should be thoroughly tucked in all way around, so that it presents a perfectly smooth surface. When the sheet wrinkles during the night this will interfere with rest. The top sheet should be tucked securely at the bottom, but not at the head.

Likewise, the blankets should be anchored at the bottom of the bed, but not tucked in at the sides. When the side of the blanket is placed under the mattress, the sleeper will be able to move around freely during the night.

The usual blanket is long enough for the ordinary person, but not of sufficient length for the very tall individual, who must choose whether to allow his feet to hang over the edge of the bed, or to allow the shoulders to hang over the top. The blanket should be wide enough to reach at least 18 inches over the side of the bed. An ideal department store manager once observed that the part of the blanket which keeps the sleeper warm is the part which hangs over at the side. When blanket is too narrow, it will tend to slide over one side of the bed during the night, which means that the person sleeping in the bed will be chilled on one side.

By using a sufficient number of woolen blankets you will find you have plenty of warmth without too much weight and that is the ideal arrangement.

By using the ideal rules and you will be rewarded better sleep.

TIME TO TAKE STEPS

Mr. Lovesh, explaining why the Social Credit Union scheme in British Columbia was abandoned, says "It is inadvisable and not in the best interests of the Social Credit movement to continue his endeavors to obtain co-operation in this province with Premier Abernethy's policies."

This is tantamount to saying the policies of the Premier are not in line with Social Credit theory, and are not preparatory to the implement-

Creditors can approve. The Premier of course is equally entitled to the contrary opinion, which he undoubtedly holds.

The term Social Credit is evidently being very loosely used in Canada, or is badly undersirable that some competent authority should define the term as used by Major Douglas.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

If only poor salaried folk had the same privilege for avoiding the tax collector as the banks and the wealthy textile corporations, how much more fair the income tax would be.

Balance sheets supplied to shareholders monthly, according to the provisions of the Turgon Commission. Writings told of millions and millions of dollars of profits swayed away in secret reserve accounts, unbalanced sheet and kept secret even from the shareholders.

Questioned by counsel for the Commission on the morality of these concealed profits—called alike from the income tax collector and the shareholder—one of the witnesses defended
the practice by saying "The banks all do it.
They all have undisclosed reserves."

Perhaps the textile moguls are right. Perhaps it is a wise and prudent thing to have a few millions of surplus profits hidden away from the tax collector and the shareholders, to be drawn on in time of need. But if the prudent principle is to be allowed for wealthy corporations it should be allowed to poor clerks and teachers and newspapermen and the salaried in general.

What would happen to one of these if he made a false declaration of his income? It wouldn't help him to plead before the judge:
"I was just building up a reserve against the possibility of illness and unemployment."
It's a sound business practice and all the banks do it.

He'd be lucky if he escaped with the imposition of a money penalty.

As a matter of fact, the government and the tax departments see to it that no loophole is afforded the members of the salaried class. Each employee under the new provisions of the income tax to the tax departments sworn statements of every cent paid to each person in his employ.
Managers of these textile corporations, while paying millions in secret reserves, are never giving sworn disclosure of everything paid to their employees, so these could be mulcted to the tune of money penalties.

Ruffles Your Tresses

By GLADYS GLAD
 Women in the majority of countries, I have found, usually rate a woman's hair as one of the things to wait a short time in order to be attended to. A woman's hair is one of the things that these impatient dames would do if they had to wait three hours for service. For that wait, women often have to do over in China, I'm told.

When a Chinese lass goes to a beauty shop to have her hair arranged, she is usually given a few hours to complete, and the other part of the time she is left to wait. When the hair once is arranged, it is kept in that form for days. On wooden bobbles, so that their tresses do not become disarranged.

Of course, the average lass who loves her comfort wouldn't think of doing this. She would rather have a pillow laid for the sake of her comfort. And she certainly would not consent to letting her tresses go without combing and brushing for days at a time.

But there are occasions, nevertheless, when girls have their hair arranged in the evening. It is an appearance that it possesses when they first leave their beauty shop. It is a beautiful sight to see a girl's hair so arranged. It is a beautiful sight to see a girl's hair so arranged. It is a beautiful sight to see a girl's hair so arranged.

Confidential! A Wife Can Be Secretive, It Is Best That She Not Inquire Too Closely Into Her Husband's Business Affairs

DEAR MISS DIX:—How much should a wife know of her husband's business? How persistent should she be in seeking this information if her husband does not seem to want her to know of his affairs? MISS THOMAS W. G.

Answer: It depends upon the wife's intelligence and discretion; upon what kind of business or profession her husband is engaged in, and upon her husband's attitude in the matter.

There are some women who have good business heads, sound judgment, an intuition that amounts almost to genius and who know how to keep their tongues silent when husbands can profitably confide to them every detail of their affairs. Such a wife is far more responsible for her husband's success than he is. There are other women whose meddling in their husbands' business is always disastrous. They have no instinct for money-making. They stir up jealousies and break up partnerships and they spoil every pie into which they put their fingers.

There are other wives who are such lucky vessels that they blab everything that happens to them in the office. Many a deal has been made, cause wife told mother and the girls all about it, and they relayed it to their friends. A man who has a wife who is a meddler or a talker does well to keep his business affairs secret.

If a man is a lawyer, a doctor, a preacher, a beauty specialist or engaged in any business in which his relations with his patrons are confidential, his wife has no right to know anything whatever about his business. He knows other people's secrets and he has no right to blab his wife about what he knows. If he is a doctor, he has no right to blab his wife about what he knows. If he is a doctor, he has no right to blab his wife about what he knows.

Also, a woman's right to know about her husband's business depends very much on how much he wants to tell her. There are men who tell their wives everything that happens to them in the office. They tell their wives everything that happens to them in the office. They tell their wives everything that happens to them in the office.

But there are still other men who want to lock their business in their desks when they get out of work. They want to lock their business in their desks when they get out of work. They want to lock their business in their desks when they get out of work.

So if a husband wishes to discuss his business with his wife she is free to listen, but if he desires to keep silent about it she is his wife she is free to listen, but if he desires to keep silent about it she is his wife she is free to listen, but if he desires to keep silent about it she is his wife she is free to listen.

What To Do

Using a toothpick incognito
 The use of toothpicks in certain restaurants is probably something that would still go on even if we were prohibited by a constitutional amendment. So probably there is nothing we can do about it. But we can try.

Now there is that trick some toothpick addicts have of hiding their faces behind their hands or their napkins and trying to pretend that they aren't using toothpicks. That's about as silly a trick as we know of, and it makes us nervous. I don't like anything, and I don't like anything, and I don't like anything.

As a matter of fact, we're against the toothpick addict except for asking questions in Manhattan. We think the if you are one of those people who use a glass of toothpicks when you pass it by the cashier's counter, you should develop the habit of pocketing a couple. Then when you get home to the privacy of your own little four poster, you can use it to your heart's content. But toothpicks, like ponies, are best kept to oneself.

Contract Bridge

 In a match today, Mr. N. Newman and Mr. F. K. Slater won 100-0. The match was played on the following date, although at North Bay, N. Newman and Mr. F. K. Slater played the hand.

♠ A Q 4 3	♥ A 8 7
♠ K J 10 5	♥ K 10 8 1
♠ 3	♥ 3
♠ 2	♥ 2
♠ A K 10 9	♥ A K 10 9
♠ 8 7 6 5	♥ 8 7 6 5

The opening lead against Mr. Slater was the 4 of spades. East won the trick. The game of hearts took the rest. Declarer retained his hand and played the 4 of hearts. He then played the 4 of hearts. He then played the 4 of hearts.

At the fourth trick dummy ruffed a heart. Declarer then played the 4 of hearts. He then played the 4 of hearts. He then played the 4 of hearts.

Several North players did not have a opening lead of a trump, but that could make no difference in the result. It is obvious that an opening lead of either a heart or a spade would have resulted in the same result.

Play out the hand with an opening lead of a trump. Play out the hand with an opening lead of a trump. Play out the hand with an opening lead of a trump.

Right Cooking Catch

In Preparing Seafood

By MARY E. DAGUE
 Serve fish manfully. That's the stern advice of New York's famed Billy the Oyster Man. His father once served fresh oysters over a street counter; served them manfully, that is, honestly, without fakery.

Now the business has become the satisfaction of all good fish eaters. Cooking manfully is something at which Billy specializes. Take scallops, for instance.

Remember, he warns, "brollage can be eaten raw if you like. So why cook and cook until you're like the baby's old oyster? But then very lightly in a little flour. Make it of the flour of that flour as you can. Fry them in butter—very quickly and very brightly. Butter, lemon-juice, sauce if you must. Tender, juicy, and not too brown, either."

"When the meat begins to get pale, it's done. Do not let it get any paler. Place on a greased broiler far under the flame. It must be browned slowly. Oyster you were away its flaky consistency. And not too brown, either."

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly
Grid Groans
Here's the Reason
Action Aplenty

BEHIND the action of the governors of the Western Football Union, by which Regina Roughriders have been denied the right to challenge for the Dominion title as western champions, lies the belief that Winnipeg are morally entitled to this honor if anyone is. "If Regina was east without her five ineligible and played as western champions, it would be penalizing the good sportsmanship of the Winnipeg," Whitt Matthews explained to me last night. It was Matthews and Naimish who called for the vote that turned thumbs down on Regina.

"Our understanding of the situation is that the western representatives were opposed to the residence clause adopted by the Canadian Union a year ago, the clause which is barring the five Roughriders." Whitt pointed out. "I understand that the Western Conference members adopted a gentlemen's agreement that they would not enforce this residence rule among themselves."

"It is for this reason that Winnipeg did not object when Regina eliminated them by their five ineligible. They stuck by their agreement and were quite content to let the Roughriders go east—even with three men barred. However it does not seem fair to me that Winnipeg should have to sit idly by and see a weaker team go into the Dominion final. The fact that the Roughriders themselves felt they were not equal to meeting the eastern titans without their ineligible and decided not to challenge at first, seems further grounds for our action. Their last minute change of attitude toward entering the final appears hard to understand. Winnipeg is maintaining a neutral attitude through good sportsmanship and should not be penalized. In addition, we fail to see how by sending a weakened team east Regina can hope to do western football any particular good."

"There you have the full answer to why five governors voted against Roughriders being nominated as champions. That is it. That is the reason on Regina admitted, but on the other hand it must also be admitted that Regina knew five of their players were not eligible for a Dominion final when they started the western season. The real truth of the matter is that Regina had only a good hope of beating Winnipeg this season. They were building for next year when these five men in question would be eligible. The mess of trouble we predicted when Winnipeg fumbled their way out of the western title has arrived right on schedule."

Fight Card Delivers Action

FREDDIE OSBOURNE's pro fight card at the Memorial Hall last night produced plenty of action. In fact, it produced action of such a decisive sort that more than one fan went home somewhat disgruntled by the shortness of the warfare. However, no one can deny that a good, honest action while it lasted with every fighter tearing in and giving the very best he had.

It is only weakness lay in the fact that the matching in a couple of bouts was not as good as it should have been. Osbourne is quite frank about that. He knows it now as well as any one, but he did not know it before he arranged the bout.

Fighting has been wallowing in the doldrums here for a long time and it needed a sort of elimination card like last night's in order to establish a proper rating among the various fighters. Grayson and McSparran have developed greatly in the past three weeks while some-what unbalanced their matchings. Dunsford, coming here with work-ups to warrant him meeting Shanks, but in the ring he seemed to lose it all. However out of it comes a handful of proven fighters who are capable of putting on a good show and giving the fans a good time on any club program in Canada. Grayson, McSparran, Young, Shanks, Rimmer and Platt give real promise.

If they have the good sense to keep plugging along for a couple of months until the proposed western federation is established, they will be able to shoot at the title man something and be in a position to benefit from worthwhile gates. It is only by fighting regularly, however, that they can get up to the point where they can give the fans two weeks, even if the payoff is small, is the only way boxing can be built up into a worthwhile business.

Western Grid Representation Rests Upon Decision from Canadian Union

Regina Roughriders Issue Challenge After Being Denied Chance to Meet East Winners for Football Title

REGINA, Dec. 3.—Western representation in a Canadian football final depended today upon decision of the Canadian Rugby Union to which Regina Roughriders forwarded a direct challenge.

Decision to carry the Regina case direct to the Dominion body was taken last night at a meeting of Rough Riders executive.

Regina Rough Riders executive, held after governors of the Western Canada Rugby Football Union had voted 5-2 to refuse Riders permission to play in the national final and to withdraw the West's challenge for the Grey cup.

No SUBSTITUTE
Pepler said the vote was on the strict question of whether Regina be permitted to play in the final of the Western Union, which draw is scheduled for December 12. All games will be played at the Arena.

While teams have been unable to get on the ice for the past few weeks with the weather being ice-makers, there is assurance all clubs will be able to draw their line-ups for the season.

Once again director W. G. "Bill" Harris has provided a new schedule of junior contests. The league, made up of South Side Skaters, Gas Rangers and Edmonton Athletic Club, expects to have its old rivalry revived in a series of games.

"He says he's collected only three dollars today, Fanny."
"Yeah, charity begins at home — and too often ends there."

Millions of years ago, a fern-like plant, known now as the Cycad, was the outstanding plant of the entire earth. Then, layer after layer of sediment was laid down over these trees. Some were buried to a depth of more than 30 miles. But the earth's surface buckled and eroded, and these long-hidden, now-fossilized cycad "cones" were exposed for modern man to see.

HALF-ACRE in EDEN

ROBIN HENRY TODAY

MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of the late PHILIP CANFIELD, met after the funeral of her father, the late FRANK KENDRICK, to whom she had been married. When she was found in KENDRICK's study, she was found in a state of shock and heartbroken. Her father was found in a state of shock and heartbroken. It is decided that she will take part in the amateur play to be presented.

CHAPTER XXII

THE dress rehearsal of "Half-Acre in Eden" was held at the Eden play house and went off splendidly. No one forgot his lines, there were no accidents due to faulty scenery, the lighting was effective, the costumes were perfect, and the acting was of the highest quality. The most successful production, did their job with professional dispatch.

Tired though they were by the last week's intensive rehearsal, the members of the cast felt that they had done their best. The dress rehearsal was a success, and the members of the cast felt that they had done their best.

When the second act curtain fell there was a tide of excited talk. The members of the cast felt that they had done their best. The dress rehearsal was a success, and the members of the cast felt that they had done their best.

McDougal, left to his own devices, probably would not have attended, but having arrived and engaged himself to his fate, he had to go. As an actor, he found much interest in the scenery committee's products, and yet, having expected to be bored by an amateur production, he found himself as interested in the play as the audience.

Surprised, he wondered if this group of amateurs always give as excellent a performance. The answer, he put the question to a veteran Stagecraft Guild player, who have been a negative. The answer, he put the question to a veteran Stagecraft Guild player, who have been a negative.
